FOREWORD.

"Duly-constituted" Lodges of Freemasons, as we use the words, never existed prior to June 24, 1717. The unnumbered and mostly unknown Lodges theretofore were but voluntary and indefinite assemblages of those Freemasons who casually or for business reasons found themselves in a given neighborhood. To this rule there were exceptions becoming more numerous toward the close of the seventeenth century, but it may be said as a generality that there was no such thing as Lodge "membership." All were Freemasons "at large." With certain definite exceptions, no Lodge was a continuing body or had officers with terms which overran each closing or kept records. They were but occasional bodies having no persevering entity. They were, however, "regular."

The reincarnation or transmutation commonly known as the "Revival of 1717" changed all this. It provided not only Grand Lodge organization and administrative machinery but included definite provisions for Lodge continuity. It established for all future time the fundamental test of regularity and due constitution, as existence under explicit authority lawfully granted by a Grand Master.

In a world which had not harnessed the energies of steam or electricity or gas for the transportation of persons or freight or intelligence, some years passed before these rules of regularity were thoroughly known, much less accepted, by all the Masons familiar with the old haphazard customs. But finally the whole Fraternity wheresoever dispersed recognized and conformed. The Regulations governing regularity (formally adopted June 24, 1721,) comparatively soon obtained full sway and have ever since been universally recognized by the Craft. No "duly-constituted" Lodge of Symbolic Masonry exists or has ever existed since then—except only the four which together organized the Grand Lodge of 1717 and Mother Kilwinning and her children—without warrant and or constitution by act of a Grand Master or of his Deputy.

See 1700, infra.

The early Lodges and Provincial Grand Lodges were careless about the keeping of records. Even the Mother Grand Lodge itself has no formal record book for more than six years after its organization. And the premier Provincial Grand Lodge of the Western Hemisphere, organized in Boston, Massachusetts, July 30, 1733, has no formal and continuous records written in a book at the time of the recorded events, until 1750.

This has led some argumentative Brethren to assert that there is naught but tradition of duly constituted Masonry in America prior to 1750. And it has led me to attempt a chronological compilation of all the real known facts of Masonry in America prior to the middle of the eighteenth century with references to the original evidence, most of which I have personally examined. Now and then are also included, for convenience of the student, references to certain things which even some of our best historians and their readers have swallowed with much consequent ptomaine poisoning.

No pretension is made that this is complete. It does contain, however, everything for which the investigations of the writer have disclosed credible and authentic evidence. It is hoped that others may be stimulated to publish all possible facts of the period for which they can and do cite authority worthy of and available for examination and test as to historical accuracy.
AUTHORITIES.

The principal sources of information are:

2. The various editions of the Constitutions.
3. Original record and account books.
4. Manuscripts of the period.
5. Preston’s Illustrations of Masonry, the 1st edition of which was issued in 1772.
6. The various editions of the Pocket Companion, containing a history of the Fraternity (and in some editions a list of the Lodges) written by J. Scott in 1754.
7. Newspapers of the period.
8. Other manuscripts and publications by those who lived during the period in question, whether written then or shortly thereafter.

1. Official Lists of Lodges.

Valuable sources of information concerning the early Lodges are the official engraved lists which since 1723 have been published at least annually by authority of the Grand Lodge of England. Just before 1730 the Lodges were given numbers in these lists, usually in accordance with seniority. When a Provincial Lodge was not reported promptly, as often happened, it was given a position later than that to which it was entitled but corresponding with the date of its report; and then when a vacancy occurred by the erasure of a Lodge somewhere near the position in which it belonged, the transfer would be made (e.g., the First Lodge at Savannah, Georgia. See 1735, after October 30, infra). The early official lists were engraved with artistic representations of the signs of the taverns, etc., in which the Lodges met.

With all of their errors—and they had many—these lists are invaluable to the Masonic student, and in many cases are the sole source of information.

Printed lists were now and then issued, but they were not official and have less probative value. Brothers Hughan and Lane have made exhaustive studies of these lists, the ultimate being reached in Lane’s List of the Lodges, 1717-1894 (2d Edition) to which frequent reference is hereafter made.

Of the old official engraved lists, the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts owns originals of 1735, 1736, 1737 (1st and 2nd Editions), 1738, and 1761; and facsimiles of 1725 (1st and 2nd Editions), 1734, and 1735. Of the printed lists, the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts owns a large number, some of which were apparently unknown to Lane.

2. The Constitutions.

The first printed edition of the Constitutions and Regulations was compiled by Anderson and published by him under authority of the Grand Lodge at London in 1723. A similar, but improved edition was issued in 1738. Many editions thereof have since appeared. The first American printing was by Benjamin Franklin, in Philadelphia, in 1734. All contain a history of the Craft. But little weight can be given to the history, as there recorded, prior to the eighteenth century, it being largely an adaptation of the old manuscript Constitutions. A considerable number of these manuscripts still exist written during the years as far back even as the fourteenth century, but they are a curious blending of fact and fiction such as usually results when facts are handed down through hundreds of years by tradition.

But the substantial accuracy of the events from and after 1717, recorded in the printed Constitutions, may be relied upon for they were recorded by participants in the events themselves or by their associates who had first-hand sources of information.

None of the Masonic bodies of the early eighteenth century began to keep its records in a minute book contemporaneously with the events recorded until several years after its organization.

a. The Grand Lodge at London, for instance, was organized in 1717, but its first contemporaneous record book begins June 24, 1723.

b. The Brethren who met in Philadelphia had an account book known as ‘‘Libre B’’ beginning with June 24, 1731, q.v., which came to light about a generation ago.

c. The First Lodge in Boston, constituted July 30, 1733, began its records at some unknown period. Its earliest record book now known begins with copies of Price’s Commission, of the By-Laws of the Lodge, and of Tomlinson’s Commission, followed by the record of December 27, 1738, being the "VI" meeting of the quarter. Ebenezer Swan was the Secretary. It closes with the record of July 24, 1754.

Reversed, the volume contains the account book of the Lodge beginning December 27, 1738, the first entry being "To a Ballce brought from a former Book 34: 8: 5.'"

Thomas Oxnard was then Treasurer. This account runs to February 26, 1755.

1 N.E.F. 57 and 279.
1900 Mass. 125.

d. The existing records of the Masters' Lodge in Boston begin with its constitution, December 22, 1738, Francis Beteilhe, Secretary. This book closes with the meeting of November 6, 1761. Reversed, the volume discloses the account book down to December 21, 1753. A loose sheet is inserted with a rough account from December 1, 1758 to December, 1760.

e. The known records of Saint John's Lodge of Portsmouth, N.H., begin October 31, 1739, Jonathan Loggin, Secretary.

f. The known records of Tun Tavern Lodge, Philadelphia, begin June 28, 1749.

g. The contemporaneous records of the Provincial Grand Lodge at Boston begin April 13, 1750, Peter Pelham, Grand Secretary, exactly seventeen years after the date of Price's Deputation. Pelham, following the custom of the period, opened his record book with such detail as was then in his possession of previous happenings.

See 1 Mass. 1-10.
He had his own part in a few of these events but, what is more to the point, he had available information thereof from Henry Price and the other Brethren who were participants therein and who were his intimate friends and constant associates, as well as from manuscripts now lost.

When Francis Beteilhe was elected Clerk of the Vestry of Christ Church, Boston, he had done exactly the same thing, viz.: begun his record book with a brief statement of the preceding history of the Church.

Brother Jacob Norton once fathered a petition to the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts which asked a revision of the ritual by the elimination of all reference to the Holy Saints John. The Grand Lodge denied his petition whereupon he withdrew from his Massachusetts membership and subsequently made bitter attacks upon the Masonic history of that jurisdiction.

1851 Mass. 7, 33-43.

1906 Mass. 84.

R.W. Joseph Rollins, a Masonic student and Chairman of the Committee on Correspondence of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, accepted Norton’s conclusions and reargued the case for him. Then certain Pennsylvania partisans restated Norton’s animadversions and gave them wide circulation. Then Brother Hughan and some other historians, assuming the correctness of Norton’s statements of fact and following his arguments, based some of their statements and conclusions upon his.

IV Gould, 330.
Entirely apart from the evidence then in hand, certain old newspaper articles, official lists, and manuscripts have been discovered since Norton’s day which utterly and beyond all cavil or argument prove the falsity of his premises and of his reasoning. Unfortunately, now and then, writers have adopted Norton’s views quoting as authorities those who also followed his lead. Our leading Masonic histories were written before Norton’s arguments were unanswerably shown to be wrong. Masonic students and historians are requested, therefore, not to adopt without personal investigation, any conclusions by even our best and most revered historians except they are based upon a knowledge of the whole facts including the recently discovered evidence, all of which are referred to in the text or citations which follow.

4. Manuscripts of the Period.

a. The original petition for the constitution of the First Lodge in Boston is still preserved in the archives of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

   See 1733, July 30, infra.
   Facsimile, 1871 Mass. 296.

   Investigations to date have failed to disclose any older similar document in the world.

b. The original petition for the constitution of the First Lodge in New Hampshire is upon the same files:

   See 1735/6, February 5, infra.
   Facsimile, 1871 Mass. 306.

c. The Betelhe Manuscript.
The Beteilhe Manuscript, so called, of twenty-six pages, is entitled almost to the dignity of a contemporaneous official record. It is in the handwriting of Francis Beteilhe, bound with an original of the Constitutions as printed by Franklin in 1734, was purchased some years ago for $375 (1899 Mass. 72, et seq., 1906 Mass. 93, et seq.) and is now in the archives of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts (1916 Mass. ). The handwriting is abundantly attested by comparison with known specimens of his handwriting in the possession of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts and referred to in later citations, and also with the record of the Vestry of Christ Church, Boston, of which he was elected Clerk on January 15, 1732/3, serving to and including its meeting for July 30, 1739. There is no clue in the Church records as to why he ceased to serve in the middle of this year except as we may judge from the handwriting itself. His last two entries seem to be written in a larger and feebler hand, certainly in a more straggling style than was his custom. It looks almost as if his style of writing or his control of his muscles was affected by an illness of some sort which might account for his giving up the office. His successor, however, does not seem to have been elected until April 10, 1740. When he became Secretary of the First Lodge in Boston and of the Grand Lodge we do not know. He was made in the First Lodge on July 24, 1734, q.v. infra. He signs as its Secretary as early as June 23, 1736, q.v. infra. He was appointed or reappointed Grand Secretary by Provincial Grand Master Tomlinson on June 24, 1737 (1 Mass. 470). Although not a member of the First Lodge at its constitution he had abundant opportunity to learn the facts which he records not only by his intimate association with the other Brethren in the town of Boston, but also especially because he was the partner of Provincial Grand Master Henry Price from 1736 to 1741.

The records of the Masters' Lodge from January 2, 1738/9, to and including August 7, 1739, are in his handwriting. That he gave up this Secretaryship in the same year that he ceased to be Clerk of the Vestry of Christ Church, and that the records of the Masters' Lodge for some time after August 7, 1739, q.v., are not in the book give confirmatory evidence of his being afflicted by some indisposition during this year.

The Manuscript starts with a copy of the petition of July 30, 1733, of the Brethren in Boston to be regularly constituted as a Lodge. This covers three pages. Pages four to six inclusive contain an account of the formation of the Grand Lodge by Henry Price, the presentation of the petition of the Boston Brethren, and the constitution of the First Lodge on July 30, 1733, q.v. infra. Pages seven to twelve inclusive contain the By-Laws or Regulations of the First Lodge in Boston as adopted October 24, 1733. Pages thirteen and fourteen contain a list of the officers of the Grand Lodge and of the Lodge and also of the Brethren, this list having been written between July 27 and August 23, 1737. Pages fifteen to seventeen inclusive contain votes relative to By-Laws, the first being passed by the Lodge on March 12, 1734/5, and the last on February 9, 1736/7. The eighteenth page is blank. Pages nineteen to twenty-one inclusive contain a copy of the Deputation issued by the Earl of Loudoun, Grand Master of England to Robert Thomlinson as Provincial Grand Master.
Pages twenty-two and twenty-three contain a copy of the letter of Glasgow Kilwinning Lodge, dated February 22, 1736/7, q.v. Pages twenty-four to twenty-six inclusive contain a copy of the letter from Edinburgh, dated January 28, 1736/7. q.v.

There are twelve names on the Pelham List which do not appear in the Beteilhe Manuscript. These Brethren had probably ceased to be members of the Lodge by July 27, 1737. There is but one name, Captain Roger Willington, on the Beteilhe Manuscript which is not found on the Pelham List and that name is found in the Barons Letter of June 23, 1736, q.v. There are but two names on the Beteilhe list prior to the date of the Bárons Letter list which are not found on the latter. These slight differences, to my mind, confirm the general accu-curacy of all of the lists and prove that no one of them is copied from any other but that all were drawn off from some original records which are now lost.

See also 1747, May 27, infra.

A facsimile of pages 13 and 14 of the Beteilhe Manuscript is herewith presented.

e. The Pelham List.

See abbreviations, supra.

I have personally compared the Pelham List and the original records of the First Lodge in Boston for the period when they overlap. There are two hundred and twenty-four names on the Pelham List for that period. Eight are given on the List whose names do not appear on the original records as made or accepted on the dates stated. Three names are given on the original records which do not appear on the Pelham List. Of the eight I can prove in at least three instances that the List must be correct and that the Secretary in these cases omitted from the records of the Lodge some things which actually transpired.

See 1747, May 27, and 1739, July 25, infra.

f. Numerous other manuscripts will be referred to in the statements and citations hereinafter contained.

5. Preston’s Illustrations.

6. The Pocket Companion.

Both of these were written by men who copied or paraphrased Anderson. Both were supplemented in succeeding editions. Both occasionally contain lists of the lodges. So far, at least, as they recite facts not recorded by Anderson their statements concerning the events of the eighteenth century have great evidential value.
7. Newspapers of the Period.

Every newspaper published in Boston prior to March 25, 1750, so far as they are known to exist, has been read. See IX Publications of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, containing check list of Boston Newspapers, 1740-1780. Appendix to 1915 Proceedings of American Antiquarian Society.

Extensive but not exhaustive search has been made of the papers published during the period in Charleston, S. C., Philadelphia, Penn., and New York, N. Y. No complete check lists of the existing copies of these papers have been found.

8. Other Manuscripts and Publications will be referred to from time to time.

CALENDAR.

Much confusion has arisen over dates from January 1st to March 24th inclusive prior to 1753, because to and including the year 1752 the first day of the new year was March 25th instead of January 1st. Consequently old style March 24, 1750, for instance, was the day before March 25, 1751; and January 1, 1750, was the day after December 31, 1750, and not the day after December 31, 1749. In many commentaries on early Masonic matters as well as upon matters of general history this distinction has been overlooked, and this I find to be true even in many instances to be found in the printed Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. Accuracy of dates has been attempted herein, and for clearness both old and new style have been indicated. For instance, March 24, 1750/1 means the day before March 25, 1751. At the time, that day was officially known as March 24, 1750.

HISTORY

Dr. Charles T. Jackson, of Boston, while making a survey of Nova Scotia in 1827, discovered upon the shore of Goat Island in Annapolis Basin a flat slab of trap rock with the date 1606 and what some have thought to be the Square and Compass deeply cut though much worn by time and weather.

1914 Mass. 247 et cit.

Brother R. V. Harris’s theory concerning this stone seems the most reasonable one presented, namely, that “the stone marked the grave of either a mason or stone-cutter or possibly a carpenter who died November 14, 1606, and not that of a speculative Freemason.”

In 1785, there was a tradition in Nova Scotia that Freemasonry had been known there while the country was in the hands of the French.

See “Charges and Regulations,” etc., published by John Howe, Halifax, 1786. The only known copy is in the archives of Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

There is a tale of modern fabrication that a dilapidated document had been found which recited that certain Hebrews were given the "Degrees of Maconrie" in 1656 or 1658 at Newport, Rhode Island. Unless and until the document is produced and/or accounted for, no credit can be given it.

Henry Price, Founder of Duly Constituted Masonry in the Western Hemisphere, was born this year in London.

1700. American Colonies.

For reasons, the statement of which is beyond our present scope, it is now accepted "that Freemasonry was introduced into the Colonies of North America at a very early period in the 18th century • • •. These Freemasons (emigrants) soon established Lodges in various places, which they worked without the sanction of warrants."

Mackey, 1233, 1407.

These occasional Lodges, meeting according to the Old Customs, were never "duly constituted" but they were, nevertheless, "regular" prior to 1721. They were neither "regular" nor "duly constituted" after June 24, 1721, unless and until lawfully warranted or chartered. On Saint John the Baptist’s Day, in 1721, the Grand Lodge at London adopted and promulgated the following regulation:

"VIII. No set or number of Brethren shall withdraw or separate themselves from the Lodge in which they were made Brethren, or were afterwards admitted members, unless the Lodge becomes too numerous; nor even then, without a Dispensation from the Grand Master or his Deputy: and when they are thus separated, they must either immediately join themselves to such other Lodge as they shall like best, with the unanimous consent of that other Lodge to which they go (as above regulated) or else they must obtain the Grand Master’s Warrant to join in forming a new Lodge.

"If any set or number of Masons shall take upon themselves to form a Lodge without the Grand Master’s Warrant, the regular Lodges are not to countenance them, nor own them as fair Brethren and duly formed, nor approve of their acts and deeds; but must treat them as rebels, until they humble themselves, as the Grand Master shall in his prudence direct, and until he approve of them by his Warrant, which must be signified to the other Lodges, as the custom is when a new Lodge is to be registered in the list of Lodges."

As will be seen hereafter the Brethren in Boston were the first in America to be constituted in accordance with this regulation (July 30, 1733). They thus became the first "regular and duly constituted Lodge" in the Western Hemisphere. The lodge at Montserrat was the second in 1734; the Lodge in Pennsylvania came next in 1734/5; the Brethren in Savannah, Georgia, and Charleston, South Carolina, came next in 1735; and the Lodge in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, followed in 1736.

Boston.

Brother Jonathan Belcher who had been made a Mason in England in 1704 (1 Mass. 389) returned to his pos at Boston as Governor of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay. He thus is the first Freemason known to be in the Western Hemisphere. We may therefore properly call him the Senior Freemason of America.

The John Moore letter, so called, was for a time exploited as showing meetings of the Fraternity in America during this year. The letter, however, never existed, although some of our best historians credited the story, having supposed it to be true but not having attempted verification.

Boston.

Reverend Brother Montague of Dedham, Mass., about 1826 exhibited to R.W. Charles W. Moore, then Editor of the Masonic Mirror (Grand Pursuivant 1833; Recording Grand Secretary, 1834 to 1867; Deputy Grand Master, 1868; Corresponding Grand Secretary, 1869 to 1873; Honorary Past Grand Master, December 10, 1873, Grand Lodge of Massachusetts; Editor of Masonic magazines 1825 to 1873), evidence that a Lodge had met in King's Chapel, Boston, in 1720. Even without Charter or Warrant such a Lodge was entirely regular prior to June 24, 1721. Unfortunately Brother Moore did not state where the original evidence is to be found.

In the concealed pages of some forgotten tome or in some hidden wrinkled and ancient manuscript, this evidence will again be discovered by some delver into the secrets of the past. Until then we shall have to rest content with the knowledge that Brothers Montague and Moore were highly respected by their compeers and were men of unquestioned veracity. The evidence, therefore, of these meetings in King's Chapel neither rises to the grade of unquestioned proof nor falls to the level of tradition. We have the definite knowledge that men of the highest standing in the community actually saw evidence which satisfied them. Certain known facts lend argumentative support. Governor Belcher of Massachusetts was a Mason. Extensive study satisfies one that at least ten of those who on July 30, 1733, applied to Henry Price for the Constitution of the First Lodge were "made here." (To this extent I desire to modify views previously expressed.) In their petition they stated in so many words that some of them were "made here."

Confirmatory facts will later appear sufficient to warrant the conclusion that the first "regular" Lodge in the Western Hemisphere met in King’s Chapel, Boston, in 1720.

In these days it was customary for members of the Fraternity to speak of Masonic matters by indirection. For instance, if a cowan or evesdropper approached while Brethren were talking Masonry one would say, “It rains.” This was the cue to turn the conversation. Bearing in mind this habit, it is interesting to read in the Boston Gazette for August 29, 1720, the following account:

Charlestown, Aug. 29. On Wednesday last four men belonging to this town went down in a boat to the island to kill a wild owl. On their return home toward sunset, they espied an heron at some small distance, which they attempted to shoot. And as one of the company was discharging his piece, another of the company, (Seble Mr. Benjamin Dewey,) unexpectedly started up before the mouth of the gun and received the shot into his own body under his right shoulder, upon which he expired in a moment or two, with this words in his mouth. Lord Jesus receive my spirit. When the body was brought on shore, it would have amazed the most Adamantine heart into remonstrance, to have heard the weeping and sobbing, which the whole town did at the affecting sight. He was very much beloved, and is universally lamented, being a sufferer of Expiatory Fate, and Industry, and Constancy and virtue, only son. He was also the town-clerk, and treasurier, and one that was very useful in teaching the youth. Writing, Arithmetic, and Singing of Plain Tunes. I think that whoever wrote the above article was a Mason and intended thereby to inform all Brethren who should read the Gazette that Benjamin Dowse was a member of the Craft.

The facts are as he gives them but his choice of italics does not accord with the custom of the day. Benj. Dowse’s father and brother predeceased him. He left a mother and three sisters.

Our learned Brother M. Huxtall thinks that this looks like ‘‘the writing of a man who ‘took his Masonry seriously,’ and (perhaps half unconsciously) introduced the language of the Craft more or less habitually.’’ 1721, June 24.

On this day the Mother Grand Lodge of the Masonic world, that at London, adopted a regulation quoted under ‘‘1700’’ supra. This has ever since been the law forbidding the formation of a Lodge without a Grand Master’s Warrant.

This Mother Grand Lodge then had jurisdiction over the new world and every Regular and Duly Constituted Lodge which existed in America during the period with which we are dealing derived its authority directly or mediatly therefrom. At least from the public promulgation of this rule (1723) every Lodge which met in the Colonies without the required authority (and there were doubtless a number of them) was irregular and not entitled to Masonic recognition. All such came under the second paragraph of said General Regulation VIII. Clandestine and irregularly made Masons were no more entitled to Masonic recognition in the eighteenth century than they are now in the twentieth century. The so-called Lodges in the Colonies, therefore, meeting without Warrant in these early days are no part of legitimate Masonic history until they "humbled themselves" as did the Masons of Pennsylvania when in 1734 they applied for and received recognition from Pro. G.M. Henry Price, in 1734/5. Until then, under the law quoted they were "rebels." And never in any phase of the life of the world have rebels obtained the rights of legitimacy unless the rebellion was successful. In dealing with questions of precedence, primacy is to be accorded to regularity, and obedience to law is to be preferred to violation thereof. The channels of regularity since 1721 are recorded and certain, susceptible of definite historic proof. The story of the irregular Craft is vague, uncertain, and almost wholly traditional. No real historian today claims the exercise of warranted Masonic authority in America until the formation of the Provincial Grand Lodge in Boston, July 30, 1733, q.v. infra.

At one time it was attempted to claim for this year proof of Masonry in Philadelphia because of the finding in 1756 of a manuscript copy of the "Old Charges" dated 1727. The contention is unworthy of serious discussion. The Grand Lodge of Massachusetts owns a similar manuscript dated 1677 but makes no claim by virtue thereof.

The Boston Weekly News Letter contains an account of a meeting of the Grand Lodge in London on Monday, February 27, 1726/7. The Duke of Norfolk appointed Daniel Coxe, Pro. G.M. of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania for two years. There has appeared no evidence, however, that he exercised this deputation. There is evidence that he did not and that he remained in England during its term.

1914 Mass. 250, \textit{et cit.}

\textit{The Builder} for May, 1915, p. 113.

The issuance of the deputation, however, establishes three facts, \textit{viz}.

1. The then jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of England over these Colonies.

2. That Regular and Duly Constituted Lodges could exist in the Colonies only through the authority of a Pro. G.M. appointed by the Grand Master of England.

3. That no one else had authority to establish Lodges in Pennsylvania, New York, or New Jersey until at least after June 24, 1732, the end of the term of the deputation.

The establishment of Lodges in Pennsylvania during the term of Coxe's deputation and without his sanction was, therefore, irregular and in direct contravention of his authority.

The claim was once made that a letter was written in 1754 by Henry Bell to Dr. Thomas Cadwallader in which the writer stated that at a meeting in Philadelphia in the fall of 1730 application was made to Daniel Coxe for a Charter which was granted by him. It is now admitted by every Masonic student both within and without Penn-sylva(nia that there never was such a letter. The whole story deserves no more dignified reference than to call it a "fake" pure and simple.

In the Philadelphia Gazette appears an alleged exposé of Freemasonry which begins:

"As there are several Lodges of Free Masons erected in this Province, and People have lately been much amus'd with Conjectures concerning them; we think the following Account of Free-Masonry from London, will not be unacceptable to our Readers."

The statement that there were "several" Lodges must be taken cum grano salis. Franklin was not then a Mason. There is evidence that Brethren about this time did assemble as a Lodge, but there never has been the slightest ground to believe that there was more than one such Lodge.

Some years ago there was discovered a book known as "Libre B" containing the statement of the financial affairs of the assemblages of the Brethren in Philadelphia for about seven years. It begins with this date and is the oldest American Lodge account book known. From it we are warranted in concluding that on this day the Brethren of Philadelphia assembled as heretofore pointed out; but like all meetings in Philadelphia prior to February 21, 1734/5, the Lodge was neither "Regular" nor "Duly Constituted." Under this date "Libre B" charges the entrance fees of John Hobart (Hubert), Mark Joyce, and Thomas Rodman (Redman), and the remainder of the fees of Benjamin Franklin and Henry Pratt.

"Libre B" and accounts in the Pennsylvania Gazette for the next two years refer to a "Grand Master" etc. Brother Gould correctly states, however, that no lingering doubt now remains as to the "Lodge" and the "Grand Lodge" being one and the same body.

On this day Lord Viscount Montague issued his Deputation to Henry Price as Pro. G.M. of New England and Dominions and Territories thereunto belonging. This was the second Deputation issued for the western world. That issued to Coxe, however, never having been exercised, the Deputation to Price becomes the first to be transmitted across the seas and being immediately put into operation is the first regular Masonic authority for American Masonry. The date of this Deputation has often been given as April 30th and it is possible the latter date is correct. It was so written by Pelham when he recorded the Commission in the first book of the Provincial Grand Lodge records. It is also so recorded in the earliest volume now in our possession of the Proceedings of the First Lodge in Boston, in the handwriting of Ebenezer Swan. An inspection, however, of the original record discloses that Swan started to write the word "thirteenth" and after writing the first "e" changed the word to "thirtieth." This indicates that he had something which led him to think the date was the thirteenth but concluded to accept Pelham's authority and therefore changed it to the thirtieth. I think that Pelham was wrong and that Swan's first inclination was correct. The first page of the Betelhe Manuscript, written between July 27th and August 23, 1737, expressly gives the date as the thirteenth. (See facsimile under 1733, July 30, infra.) The original petition for the First Lodge in Boston, written July 30, 1733, also clearly gives the date as the thirteenth. In the Deputation of the Duke of Beaufort to John Rowe (1768) is found the recitation, "Our Right Worshipful and well beloved Brother Henry Price Esq! of North America, Constituted Provincial Grand Master for North America by Viscount Montague Grand Master April 13th, 1733."

1 Mass. 150.
I am inclined to think that when Charles Pelham wrote his copy, he misunderstood whoever was dictating it to him or misread the original and that his blunder was followed by Ebenezer Swan, though in Swan's mind he had remembered it was the thirteenth. I am further confirmed as to April 13th by an entry made by Grand Secretary French in a volume of manuscript records of the Grand Lodge of England which reads as follows:

"N.B. The Deputation of Bro H. Price has never come to my hand, but among other loose papers I have found the following memorandum. (Signed) Thos French.

Viscount Montague, G.M.

Henry Price, Esqr P.G.M. for all North America and the Territories thereunto belonging, Date April 13th, 1733, desire the favour to resign his Provincialship in favor of John Rowe, Esqr to be Provincial G.M. over North America where no other Provincial is appointed.

(Signed) Beaufort, G.M.

Henry Price received this Deputation in person from Viscount Montague (1 Mass. 402) paying the fee of three guineas therefor to Thomas Batson, Esq., then Deputy Grand Master, who with the Grand Wardens signed the Deputation.

1 Mass. 134.

In Civil War days, when paper stock was scarce, our late Right Worshipful Brother Thomas W. Davis was employed in buying for a dealer all the old papers that could be found in Townsend, Massachusetts, and vicinity. He has told me that he then bought nearly all the old papers there were in the residences of that town. He distinctly remembered buying of the Wallace (or Wallis) family. What he collected he piled into his wagon and carted to Fitchburg, where it was sold to paper makers. He felt firmly convinced that he had gathered, among others, all the papers of the Wallaces and other heirs of Henry Price and thus had ignorantly and innocently been the instrument of destruction of this very Deputation.

Note.—The student who desires to examine the evidence upon this subject is referred to the address by the writer to be found in 1914 Mass. 253 to 390, and the citations therein given. Some other evidence is stated in the present address. Other evidence is coming to light day by day. The latest is referred to under 1734/5, February 21, infra, and is of great importance. I have recently found an original letter, dated April 5, 1755, from and under the seal of the Lodge at Portsmouth, N.H., expressly referring to Henry Price as “Grand Master of the Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons in North America;” also an original summons sent by Grand Secretary Leverett to the Master of the Second Lodge in Boston by Order of Henry Price, “Provincial Grand Master of North America,” dated September 18, 1754, (Price having resumed the chair on the death of Oxnard). The records of the Lodge at Portsmouth contain confirmatory references when recording Price’s visits thereon February 12, 1756/7, March 24 and June 9, 1768, and October 26, 1769.

B.MS. 5.

When Charles Pelham wrote the record of this evening in the first existing volume of the Grand Lodge record book he either copied from the Betteilhe Manuscript or both were taken from an original now lost. For in language so nearly identical that the accounts could not have been written independently, both report that after forming the Grand Lodge Price ordered his Commission or Deputation to be read, and then he ordered to be read a petition of eighteen Brethren addressed to him praying that they might be constituted into a regular Lodge by virtue of said Deputation. Thereupon he granted the prayer thereof and did then and there in the most solemn manner according to ancient custom and form as prescribed by the book of Constitutions. Constitute them into a regular Lodge. This original petition, apparently in the handwriting of Henry Hope who that evening was chosen Master, is still in the archives of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, bearing the original signatures of the petitioners. A facsimile may be found in 1871 Mass. 297. Copies of both said Deputation and petition are in the Beteilhe Manuscript, the original of which is in the archives of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. M.W. Brother Nickerson and some other historians have thought that the Lodge was not constituted until August 31, 1733, that being the date stated in two letters written by Francis Beteilhe as Secretary of the First Lodge in Boston in September, 1736.

1 Mass. 393.

I am convinced, however, that the date given in the letter was an error of the scrivener. The Beteilhe and Pelham accounts are definite and detailed. Moreover, the list of the Brethren made and accepted in the First Lodge of Boston with the time when made or admitted, written by Charles Pelham in 1751 (the accuracy of which is attested by the list in the Beteilhe Manuscript, the list enclosed with the Barons letter of June 23, 1736, and the original records of the First Lodge in Boston from December 27, 1738 not only records the eighteen signers of the petition as becoming members of the Lodge on July 30, 1733, but discloses that John Smith was made on August 3, 1733. This would have been impossible if the Lodge had not been constituted until August 31st. Smith’s name, in order as given on the Pelham List, appears also in the Beteille Manuscript and the Barons letter. It seems certain that the Lodge was organized on July 30 and met and worked before August 31.

This Lodge, consolidated with two others later, is now Saint John’s Lodge of Boston.

The original Charter of this Lodge was in the possession of the Grand Lodge as late as December 13, 1826, when it was voted to return it to St. John’s Lodge. It had been surrendered February 7, 1783, when Grand Master John Rowe issued a new Charter upon the union of the First and Second Lodges.

This precious document was doubtless destroyed in the disastrous fire of April 6, 1864.

‘‘Boston in New England’’ without date of Constitution or time of meeting is No. 126 on the 1734 English official engraved list of Lodges. Few dates are given in this list of the constitution of Lodges in distant parts. No other Lodge in America, however, appears on this list, which closes with No. 128, constituted in 1734.

The learned R.W. Brother John Dove, of Virginia, contended that the Royal Exchange Lodge at Norfolk, Va., was established on this date. On several official lists it so appears, being first found upon the list for 1754, near its close, as No. 236. In all lists, however, it is with the 1753 Lodges, following No. 235 accredited to December 20, 1753, and preceding No. 237 accredited to February 9, 1754. It was carried on the lists until the 1813 revision becoming numbers 173, 137, 111, 112, and 102.

The information which Brother Dove had led him to suspect at one time that Blandford Lodge at Petersburg, Va., was founded about this time by the Grand Lodge of Scotland. He was misinformed. Blandford Lodge is given in the Scottish list as No. 82, whereas Saint Andrew's Lodge at Boston (1756) is No. 81.

The correct date for Blandford Lodge is probably March 9, 1756. In later editions of his history Brother Dove assigned it to 1757.

Until recently I have followed the opinion of those who believed that Benjamin Franklin was present at this meeting (1914 Mass. 256). I have changed my mind because of the event recorded later under this date. It is the fact, however, that before this time he had visited Boston and became acquainted with Pro. G.M. Henry Price who conferred with him about Masonic matters and laid the foundation for the petition which was sent Price later from Philadelphia.

Benjamin Franklin as the head of the so-called Grand Lodge for the Province of Pennsylvania writes Pro. G. M. Henry Price and his Grand Lodge, acknowledging Price's authority over all North America, admitting that the Fraternity in Pennsylvania "seems to want the sanction of some authority derived from home" and praying that Henry Price as Grand Master of all America will confirm (heal) the Brethren of Pennsylvania by a Deputation or Charter, "the said Grand Master of Pennsylvania only yielding his chair when the Grand Master of all America (Henry Price) shall be in place."

In a personal letter Franklin refers to his previous conferences with Price and points out the necessity that the Brethren of Pennsylvania should be "countenanced and distinguished by some special authority." The first letter is a flat and explicit admission made officially that the Brethren of Pennsylvania had no authority, and that they were irregular without it; and they prayed for the grant thereof.

Benjamin Franklin when he signed the letter of November 28, 1734, as Grand Master and "at the request of the Lodge," knew what he was writing ex cathedra. It is also submitted that the Brethren who officially requested their Grand Master to send the petition to Price, knew more about the facts of that day and generation than some partisan historians one hundred and fifty years later who have struggled to convince the Masonic world that Franklin, Price, and their associates were all wrong as to these facts.

Should all other evidence and argument be disregarded, these letters are definite and final in establishing the irregularity of Pennsylvania Masonry prior thereto, and the premiership of Henry Price as the "Founder of Duly Constituted Masonry in America."

The Deputation or Warrant granted Franklin and the Brethren of Pennsylvania has disappeared as have all of Franklin's American Masonic documents. (There are no Pennsylvania Grand Lodge records prior to July 29, 1779, and no Lodge minute book for that jurisdiction earlier than that beginning June 28, 1749, q.v.)

Franklin's letter states as his source of information that Price's authority had been extended over all North America; "We have seen in the Boston prints an article of news from London, importing that at a Grand Lodge held there in August last, Mr. Price's deputation and power was extended over all America." Because of the delays in transportation of the mails in those days, this means that the article which Brother Franklin saw must have been published some time between the first of September and the middle of November, 1734. At that time there were five Boston newspapers. The oldest was The Boston News Letter. Complete files of that paper for the period in question have been examined and no such article is found therein.

The Boston Gazette was at that period frequently publishing Masonic items. Only three copies of the Boston Gazette after August 19, and before December, 1734, are known to exist. September 16th is in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society; October 21st and November 25th are in the library of the Bostonian Society. They have been examined and no such item has been found. The paper was issued, however, on August 26th, September 2nd, 9th, 23rd; October 7th, 14th and 28th, and November 4th, 11th and 18th, but no copies of these issues are now known to exist.
The Boston Post Boy began with the issue of October 7, 1734. No copies of this paper, however, are known to exist prior to April 21, 1735.

A copy of each issue of the New England Weekly Journal for the period has been searched but no such article has been found. This statement applies also to the Weekly Rehearsal, except that no copy of this for September 16, 1734, is known.

We may safely assume that Franklin told the truth and therefore must possess our souls in patience until, if ever, the print to which he referred is found. There is much other evidence than Franklin's letter or the missing print that Price's commission was extended as stated, all of which has been quoted or referred to in citations. The reporter who wrote the newspaper article, however, was in error in thinking that the commission was extended at a meeting of the Grand Lodge, for in those days the Grand Lodge neither issued nor endorsed Provincial Grand Masters' commissions. That was a prerogative of the Grand Master. We, in this day and generation, can well understand from familiarity with our newspapers how a reporter can get the essential fact as a basis of his article and yet mistake many of the details. He would not have written the report unless he had information of the fact that the Commission had been extended. Unless he were a well informed member of the Craft, however, he would easily fall into the error of stating that the act was of the Grand Lodge instead of the Grand Master.

Meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge in Boston.
Appointment of Benjamin Franklin as Pro. G.M. of Pennsylvania by "HENRY PRICE GRAND MASTER OF HIS MAJESTY'S DOMINIONS IN NORTH AMERICA."

I have just discovered an item of news, dated Boston February 24, 1734/5, published by the American Weekly Mercury (Philadelphia), No. 795, "March 20 to 27, 1735 as follows:

"Boston, Feb. 24."

"On Friday last was held a Grand Lodge of that Ancient and Honourable Society of Free and Accepted Masons, at the Bunch Grapes Tavern in King Street, where Mr. Henry Price, Grand Master of His Majesty's Dominions in North America, Nominated and Pointed his Grand Officers for the Year ensuing, viz.: Andrew Belch..."
Elq., Deputy Grand Master; Mr. James Gordon and Mr. Frederick
Hamilton, Grand Wardens for this Province; and Mr. Benjamin Franklin, Provincial Grand Master for the Province of Pennsylvania."

A reproduction of the last column of page 2 and the first column of page 3 of this number of the American Weekly Mercury is herewith presented.

We are now, for the first time, in possession of the date of Franklin's appointment, for which he had petitioned less than three months before.

1734, November 28, supra.

And we have also from Pennsylvania's own press unequivocal evidence of the extension of Price's authority over all North America, and Pennsylvania's recognition thereof.

See also 1734, August, supra.

I cannot help but wonder how the above quoted item, from a newspaper which I found in Philadelphia in the library of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, has escaped the notice of those particular Pennsylvania partisans whose arguments we have been obliged to puncture from time to time. Their researches have been indefatigable.
They have made frequent and extensive use of quotations from newspapers both before and after the date of this one.
Yet I have looked in vain for a reference to this item in the printed Proceedings or in the elaborate official and quasi official publications of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, including the works of Brother Julius F. Sachse, its librarian.
One can hardly help wondering, also, if there does not still remain in the great libraries of Pennsylvania other information which remains unpublished.

The first Lodge at "Charles Town," South Carolina, appears for the first time upon the Official English Lists in that for 1760, as No. 251. Later it took the place vacated by Bristol Lodge as No. 74. The Lists accredit the Lodge to 1735, and it was Warranted under Lord Weymouth, installed G.M. April 17, 1735.

P.C. (3rd Eng. Ed. 1764) 382.

Hammerton's deputation as Pro. G.M. for South Carolina did not issue until after April 15, 1736 (q.v.), and he appears as the Master of the Lodge when it met "for the first time" on October 28, 1736, (q.v.). There accordingly is some ground for the arguments, which have been heard, that this Lodge was constituted by Hammerton under his commission and not by Lord Weymouth direct, or that authority for the 1735 Lodge came from Boston.

See 1735, Dec. 27, infra.

See also a discriminating and careful study of the situation in the first chapter of Mackey's History of Freemasonry in South Carolina.
I thought I had definitely established the date of the Constitution of this Lodge when I found it given in the 6th Edition of Jachin and Boaz (London 1765) as November 12, 1735. No reliance can be placed upon that month and day, however. Bristol Lodge, Gloucestershire, Constituted November 12, 1735, was No. 74 in the 1755 listing. It was erased in 1757, but the date of Constitution was retained in the lists against the number, although no Lodge was given. This is the case in the Official List for 1761 (original in archives of Grand Lodge of Massachusetts), where "Solomon's Lodge in Charles Town, South Carolina," meeting the 1st and 3rd Thursdays, is given as No. 251, with 1735 as the date of Constitution. It is inserted between Lodges Constituted in 1756 and 1759, thus indicating about when the information officially reached the Grand Officers. Later Solomon's Lodge was put in No. 74, vacated by Bristol Lodge. This brought it with the 1735 Lodges, where it should be, but the date of the Constitution of Bristol Lodge was left. Thus the date (other than the year) clearly does not belong to the South Carolina Lodge. Furthermore, its placement ahead of the Lodge at Savannah does not indicate priority of Constitution, but merely the convenience of the engraver.*

*Bro. W. J. Songhurst, the learned secretary of Quatuor Coronati Lodge, says, "Early printed lists were mostly unofficial. So also were some of the engraved lists. And even with the official lists the engravers frequently rubbed out the particulars of a Lodge and engraved particulars of a new one under the old date."

The Pennsylvania Gazette publishes the following, referring to the English Grand Lodge meeting of March 31, 1735 (X Q.C.A. 247), among items of London news, viz:

The Pennsylvania Gazette has a notice of a meeting of the Grand Lodge of Ireland.

1735, After October 30, Savannah, Georgia.

Webb’s Monitor in its first edition holds the following statement: "The Grand Lodge of Georgia is holden by virtue and in pursuance of the right of succession legally derived from the most noble and most worshipful Thomas Thynne, Lord Viscount Weymouth, Grand Master of England, A.D. 1730, by his warrant directed to the right worshipful Roger Lacey," etc.

The statement, of course, was entirely in error and Webb made a correction in subsequent editions. Weymouth was not Grand Master in 1730 and the warrant issued by him to Mr. Roger Lacey, merchant, for constituting a Lodge at Savannah, Georgia, was issued some time during that part of 1735 when Weymouth was Grand Master; viz.—after April 17.

Anderson (1738 Ed.) 195.

As fixing the date with a trifle more accuracy, I find that in the Official English List for 1737 ""Savannah in ye Province of Georgia"" is given as No. 139. No. 138 is reported as Constituted October 30, 1735. No. 140 was Constituted March 1, 1735/6. It is evident, therefore, that the date for the Constitution of this Lodge must be after October 30, 1735, and before March 1, 1735/6.

The Lodge at Savannah first appears on the Official List for 1736 as No. 139 and is the second Lodge in America enrolled on the Official English Lists; although in the later English Lists the Lodge at Charleston, South Carolina, took one number's precedence over the Lodge at Savannah, Georgia. That this does not, in this case, indicate earlier Constitution, see ""1735, after April 17,"" supra. For further evidence that 1735 is the correct date, see also

R.W. Charles W. Moore in July, 1856, pointed out that this preamble was incorrect in the following particulars: "1. The Grand Lodge of Georgia does not exist by virtue of a Warrant from Lord Weymouth. 2. Lord Weymouth was not Grand Master of England in 1733. 3. Lord Aberdour was not Grand Master of England in 1755. 4. The Grand Lodge of Georgia had no existence in 1733."

He proceeded conclusively to prove these negations and pointed out that the Warrant which was issued by Lord Weymouth in 1735 was for a particular Lodge, not a Provincial Grand Lodge, in Georgia.

15 M.F.M. 263, 353-362.

The first appointment of any Provincial Grand Master for the Province of Georgia was made by Lord Aberdour sometime between May 18, 1757, and May 3, 1762.

Preston (Portsmouth, 1804) 202.

The Grand Lodge of Georgia has amended its preamble so that the corresponding part of it now reads as follows: "The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, according to the Old Institution, of the State of Georgia, existing since 1733, and by virtue of, and in pursuance of the right and succession legally derived from the Most Noble, and Right Worshipful Thomas Thynne, Lord Viscount Weymouth, Grand Master of England, for the year of Masonry Five Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirty-Five, by his warrant directed to the Right Worshipful Roger Lacey, and by the renewal of the said power by Sholto Charles Douglass, Lord Aberdour, Grand Master of Scotland, and for the year Five Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-Five and Five Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-Six, the Grand Master of England for the years Five Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-Eight, by his warrant directed to the Right Worshipful Gray Eliot, etc.

I must confess that I do not understand quite what this means but if there is any evidence to sustain the claim that the Grand Lodge of the State of Georgia has existed since 1733, I sincerely wish our good Brethren of that jurisdiction would refer us thereto. I am unable to find it, although I have carefully considered Brother Rockwell's arguments.

Brother Sidney Hayden in his Washington and his Masonic Compeers (page 342) speaks of "King Solomon's Lodge at Savannah which had commenced its work under an old oak tree in 1733 when the first settlement of Georgia began."

Brother Hayden gives us no suggestion of his authority, if he had any, for this remark made one hundred and thirty-three years after the event. Too many times even good historians have been led astray by the error of others for us to give much weight to any statement of this type unless and until we know what evidence there is or was for it or what sources of information the declarant possessed which are not available to us.

In February, 1733, Oglethorpe arrived at Port Royal with a charter, "in trust for the poor," dated June 9, 1732, to establish a colony south of the Savannah River to be called Georgia. He proceeded to the Savannah River and began to fortify his new settlement to protect the immigrants from the Indians who then inhabited the locality and the Spanish who claimed to own it. The record tells us that for "almost a year, the Governor dwelt under a tent." It doesn't seem likely and there is no evidence that either a Lodge or Grand Lodge was organized under such circumstances.

On December 13, 1733, at a communication of the Grand Lodge of England, steps were taken to make a generous collection "to send distressed Brethren to Georgia where they may be comfortably provided for." It is definitely known that contributions were made by the Fraternity for this purpose.

X Q.C.A. 235.

It would be natural that these Brethren, although poor, would in their new home gather as a Lodge and this gives additional credit to the date of 1735. Oglethorpe (having returned to England in 1734) took about three hundred emigrants of a better class (among them the celebrated Methodist divine John Wesley) with him to Georgia in 1736.
Roger Lacey may have preceded these emigrants or gone with them. He must have taken out his Warrant, however, between October 30, 1735, and March 8, 1735/6.

Charles Pelham, in 1750, when, as Grand Secretary of the Provincial Grand Lodge at Boston, he began his book of records by recording the principal events theretofore, wrote under date of December 27, 1735, that "about this time sundry Brethren going to South Carolina met with some Masons in Charlestown who thereupon went to work, from which sprung Masonry in those parts."

This may be the Lodge referred to under 1735, after April 17, supra.

Undoubtedly, Pelham knew whereof he spoke; but we are hardly warranted in assigning December 27, 1735, as a definite date or in making too explicit assertions about it. If it be not Lodge 251, then it is doubtless the Lodge referred to under January 26, 1737/8, infra. There is, it seems to me, hardly original evidence enough to warrant any definite conclusion. Too much weight, however, cannot be given to Pelham's assertion that from this movement sprung Masonry in South Carolina. He may not have known the exact facts about the authority obtained from England above referred to. (See 1735, after April 17, supra.) Moreover, he does not recite the issuance of any warrant or deputation. On his bare statement, the Lodge would be irregular.

At the same time, there is no evidence that No. 251 did not spring from Massachusetts for there is nothing to show the exercise of any authority direct from England prior to October 28, 1736, q.v. Pelham had sources of information in 1750 of which we are not to-day aware. He was intimately associated with those who had participated in the events from 1733 onward, and could have gained much information at first hand.

In the Pocket Companion (Dublin, 1735 Ed.) a Lodge is given as No. 116 at the Hoop, in Water Street, in Philadelphia. Such a Lodge was never on the English Register.

L.M.R. 56, 480.

By fanciful and strained reasoning some Brethren have sought to say that it belongs as No. 79 on the English Register which happens this year to be blank. But that it does not belong there is evident from the fact that on the earlier and later English lists, No. 79 is duly accounted for. Moreover this Lodge is not to be found in the later published Irish lists.

If a Lodge at The Hoop existed before 1733, it could not have had the place of No. 79 which belonged until that year to the Lodge at Castle, Highgate, when it united with No. 4. No. 79, thus vacated, was officially filled by the Lodge at the Two Angels and Crown, Little Saint Martin's Lane.

The Boston Evening Post contains the following item:

"Some private Societies of Gentlemen who call themselves Free Mafons, having been set up in Holland, the Mob began to shew their Dislike to such Meetings, by threatening to pull the Lodge or Houfe where they assembled, about their Ears; but soon after the States of Holland thought fit, it seems, to pass a Resolution against such private Assemblies; whereupon the City of Amsterdam published a Placart against them, in Substance as follows, viz.:

Forasmuch as the Magistrates in the City of Amsterdam have heard, that there are Persons in it, who, under Pretence of being Members of a certain Society called Free Mafons, have had the Affurance to form and frequent Conventicles and unlawful Assemblies upon that Account, and that some have made Use of their Houfes and Lodgings for holding the said prohibited Assemblies; The Magistrates having it at Heart to take Care of the Tranquility and Welfare of the City and its Citizens, have thought it proper and necessary, to forbid and prohibit all Persons in the said City and its Jurisdiction, as they are by these Presents forbidden and prohibited, to hold and frequent such unlawful Conventicles, whether with the Names of Free Masons, or any other specious Title which they may affect; as also to hire, lett, and make use of their Houses, Chambers, Barns, Cellars, Coach-houses, or other Places, for the holding of such Assemblies, under Pain of being severely punished, as Disturbers of the publick Peace, &c.

Such another Placart has been published against them at the Hague, and 'tis said their Lodges or Assemblies are to be suppressed throughout the whole Province of Holland; for the Dutch, it seems, look upon them as Accademies not only of Libertinism and Debauchery, but of Faction and Rebellion, and therefore those who keep or frequent such Assemblies, are to be punished as Disturbers of the publick Tranquility.''

In the archives of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts is the original draft of a letter dated this day:

"From the Holy Lodge of St. John held in Boston New England" to "the Rt. Hbl. and Rt. Worshipful Grand Master or Deputy G. M. or G. W. of the Grand Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons In England" of good wishes and of recommendation "of our Rt. Worshipful Bro. Mr Benja Barons (our present S. G. W.)"

This letter with an accompanying list of names of the Free and Accepted Masons who were then members of the Lodge are also in Beteilhe's handwriting. The letter has the original signatures attached of Henry Price, G.M., James Gordon, D.G.M., and Francis Beteilhe, G.Sec'y., although they are all crossed out in ink. The letter and list either were retained as copies, or else for some reason were not issued. They are clearly genuine. The watermarks and texture of the paper are those of the period. The handwriting is unquestionably the same and even the ink is obviously the same that was used upon other documents by Beteilhe. Every name on the list is to be found on the Pelham List of 1751 except those of Captain Roger Willington and Saml. Wethered. The former is on the Beteilhe List of 1737 and both are upon the original records of the First Lodge in Boston. The list, so far as I know, has never been published. They read as follows:

"From the Holy Lodge of St John's Held in Boston New England the 23rd Day of June A.M. 5736.

The Boston Weekly News Letter has the following curious item:

"The Humour of entering into the Society cal'd Free Masons, runs so high in France that there are no less than nine Lodges constituted in Paris, a vast many young Noblemen are become Members of the Order, particularly the Prince of Conti, and even the Minister for the Marine Affairs, as well as several General Officers and two Bishops. The Ladies push forward for an institution of this Kind, in order for an engrainment but the Princeps of Carignan is the only Woman yet discovered that can steep (sic) a secret, so that the Female Masonry, it's thought, will fall to the Ground.—just now we have Advice that Monsieur Blarer the noted Flute Player, and Monsieur Leclainlee, the famous Fidler, with several other Men of Science, and Poets of all Sizes were admitted Members, but as the old Cure of St. Sulpice the Great Proctor (sic), and Father Tournemin the celebrated preacher and Jesuit, were going to initiate themselves, out comes an Order from the King, like a Thunderbolt, and throws down the Babel Building."

"Philadelphia, June 16.

We hear, that Monday night last, some People pretending to be Free Masons, got together in the Cellar, with a young Man who was defires of being made one, and in the Ceremony, 'tis said, they threw some burning Spirits on him, which burnt him so that he was obliged to take to his bed, and died this Morning.'

Under the same date Thomas Hopkinson, Grand Master; Will Plumstead, Deputy Master; and Joseph Shippen and Henry Pratt, Grand Wardens "in Behalf of all the Members of St. John's Lodge at Philad'a" issued a declaration expressing their abhorrence of such practices and the innocence of the Fraternity, which was published as an advertisement in the Pennsylvania Gazette and the American Weekly Mercury. Incidentally we note that this confirms what has been hinted above to the effect that there was, down to this date, but one Lodge in Philadelphia and also that the Lodge and the Grand Lodge there were one and the same.

"This Writer supposes, that this Fraternity might as well be call'd the Society of Carpenters, Joiners, Chimney-Sweepers, or Rat-Catchers, as Mafons; and endeavours to prove this paradoxical Truth, That the Mafons are no Mafons.

Agatharebus the Athenian, Archimedes, Virtruvius, &c as well as the later Architects and Mathematicians, have deliver'd their Knowledge in this Science freely, generally and publickly. How then can this be the Art, that is kept secret in the Breaths of the Members of the modern Lodges? as the Constitution Book affects, that altho' this Society is posses'd of many Arts (curious ones, no doubt) yet do they dwell securely in the Breaths of the Brethren.

Nor does it appear by their Performances, that they are taught in the Lodges to hew, mould stone, lay a Level, or raise a Perpendicular. How then can they be said to be Mafons? Is a Drawer a Magon, because he keeps his Reckoning square? Or a Tinker, because he rings his Kettle by Rule? If a Lawyer can compose his Cause, or a Bookfetter erect monumental Volumes; if a Porter stand strong as a Colosus, and an Apothecary can temper his electuarial Mortars and Cements, to new-frame, and, as it were, rebuild our animate edifices: Yet cannot I perceive the least Tincture of Vitruvius, Euclidism, or Burlingtonism in any of these.

Lastly, if the Art of Masonry be really and truly vested in this Society, how comes it to pass, that the Brethren build no better than some of the monied Gentry among the Grubs, who, I own, seldom build any Thing but Castles in the Air?"
Having thus shewn what they are not, let us consider what they are, and from whence the Word Mason, as applied to this Club, may be corrupted. The Society I allow to be a very antient one; and, I believe, they will not thank me for acknowledging, that such a strange Society may have been even as old as Chaucer; in whose Days the Word mafe was used to signify a Whim, or Fancy; And what could be more natural, than to distinguish a Society by this Name, which hath so many peculiar whimsical Oddities? Doubt not then candid Bavy that the Word Mason is a corruption of this Mafe; Which will appear still more probable, if thou wilt take a Ride or Walk to Devonshire; where, to this Day they call any Person whom they imagine to be mad, a Mafe, or Maze, Man or Woman. Some wicked Persons, I know, would derive this Name from the popish Mafe, which, I own is of very intricate Nature: Yet must I reject such a malevolent Supposition, if it was only because so many zealous Protestants, nay even Jews, the constant Enemies to Transubstantiation, are accepted Brethren.

Various are the Discourses upon this Occasion: Some say that the Inquisition of Florence has tortur’d out Confessions from the Brethren of the Order imprizon’d some Weeks ago in that City, and sent our Court an Account of their Discoveries; but whether there is any Truth or not in this Report, the Clergy here have decided open War againit all Free-Mafonry, and upon this Declaration of the Clergy, the People look upon all Free-Mafons to be rank Heretics, and dangerous to common Society. But, not to lay any Stress on these Opinions, the Free-Mafons were doubtles a Parcel of Madmen, to think of establishting Lodges under an arbitrary Government, especially in any Country where there is an Inquisition or a Bastille."

The Boston Evening Post quotes from the Pennsylvania Gazette the article referred to under date of February 14, 1737/8, supra, as follows:

"Philadelphia, Feb. 7. On Wednesday last, at the Court of Oyer and Terminer then sitting here, came on the Trial of Evan Jones, Chymiift, for being a Principal concern'd in the death of D. R. a young Man who had been his Apprentice, and was but juft free, in June laft. The Trial began at Nine o'Clock in the Forenoon, and lafted till almoft Two next Morning. The Jury found him guilty of Manslaughter, and he was accordingly burnt in the Hand, and order'd to find sufficient Security for his good Behaviour. There was the greatest Throng of People to hear the Trial, that perhaps ever appear'd at any Trial in this Province. By the Evidence, some of whom were deeply concern'd in the Affair, it appear'd, That the Deceafed, having made known to his Mater his Defires of being a Free-Mafon, he and fome of his Associates, contriv'd to make themfelves Mirth, by impoj ing on the young Fellow, and making him believe that they were Free-Mafons: The unwary young Man was too foon prevail'd with to believe them, juffer'd fuch Impofitions (befide that of his Treating them) as at length terminated in his Death. He was perjuaded to repeat, after one of the Company, what was call'd an Oath of Secrecy, but as vile, ftupid, and pro- fane (to fay no worfe of it) as ever was invented; after which, he being Blindfold, they gave him Phyfick to Drink; and then led him to, and made him Kifs, the bare Poteriors of one of their Company. After all this, viz. on the 13th of June, at Evening, the Company, who call'd themfelves a Lodge, met again, at Dr. Jone's, in order, as the Deceafed was made to believe, to make him a compleat Free-Mafon. After Supper, the Company retir'd to the Cellar, and then this unhappy Perfon was led down blindfold to them, and there unveil'd: They had prepar'd a Pan of burning Spirits, with Raifins at the Bottom, and were standing round, dipping in their Hands for the Raifins, and flirring the Flames about. This was call'd Snap-Dragon. One of the Company was wrap'd in a Hide to repreff the Devil, which, with the ftrange Countenances that the Light of the burning Spirits caus'd, made Things there look ghaftly, frightful, deviilifh. However, this it seems did not terrify him as was expected, and he had not been long in the Cellar, when the whole Pan of burning Spirits was thrown on him, at which he cry'd out, Mater, I'm kill'd, I'm kill'd; and, notwithstanding they immediately frove to extinguifh the Flames, he was fcorch'd to that Degree that he died on the 16th of the fame Month, in a miferable Manner. It was sworn, that the Doctor was the Perfon who flung or fpilt the Liquor; but no premiffated Malice could be proved, fo he came off with only burning in the Hand, as before related.
And on Thursday F—R—g—n, Attorney at Law, and E—W—Taylor, were tried for being present at, and concern'd in, the said Affair. The former was found Guilty of Manslaughter, but was pardon'd. The other the Jury acquitted."

In the midst of the Cares of the Apostleship, and the continued Attention we have to extirpate Herefies, and maintain the Lord's Vineyard in all its Purity; we have heard with Grief and Bitternefs of Soul, that a certain Society, who ftille themfelves the Fraternity of Free Mafons, after making Progress in several States in Europe, have likewife spread into Italy, and even had fome Increafe. The Boston Gazette for February 5, publishes the following article evidently intended as an answer to some criticisms of our Fraternity, viz.

"To the Publisher of the Boston Gazette,

S I R,

By inserting the following Lines in your Paper, you will greatly oblige your constant Readers and humble Servants;

S I S.

Homo ad Societatem natus, St. Augustin

Man is a social Creature, and cannot possibly enjoy any Comfort or Happiness in a recluse and retired Life, entirely deprived of Conversation or Society; for it is that which sweetens Life unto us and renders us fit for Converse with Heav’n. By exercising our Tho’ts, and by communicating that Knowlege we are invested with to our Fellow-Creatures, we not only oblige ourselves, but them; For we by thinking furnish our Minds with more Knowlege, and by communicating to our Fellow Creatures we afford them Aid in their Search after Truth. And as no one will deny but that this is a glorious Practice, so they must allow that the Way for executing it must be by Society, for without it what would become of the Minds of Men? Even the Body which is only the cortex of the Man could not subserve without it. But then, How much greater Care ought to be taken of the Mind, which would inevitably suffer without it, and come to nothing, but Unhappiness and Confusion?

And is this the Cafe that we must be in without Society? Let every Lover of Reaon then stir himself up, and put forth all his Powers for setting up such Societies for the inverting the Mind with Learning and true Knowlege. And if there are already any such Societies set up among us, let the Members of such Societies consider that the Ends of Society is the good of the Persons associated, and that the keeping private the Secrets of such Societies is doing a great Benefit to the Society to which they belong. For it is to be supposed by all Men of Reaon, that every Society is governed by some Laws or other, and that the Members are to keep them with all Care. But let the ignorant and unthinking Part of Mankind spit out all their Malice and Fury, and call Society to Task for their convening together; the Way they shall be answered is according to the Advice of Solomon the wisest of Men—anfwer not a Fool according to his Folly, left he be wise in his own Conceit.

Meeting of the First Lodge. The use of the words "humble Remonstrance" in the Oxnard petition of October 7, 1751 (for facsimile of same see 1915 Mass. 266) has been misinterpreted because of the present common use of the word. As showing the true use of the word in those days as well as because of its general interest I quote the record of the First Lodge for this meeting as follows:

Wednesday April 9th: 1740. Being Lodge Night
The following Brethren Met.

The Rt.W: Bro: Robert Tomlinson G M.
The Rt.W: Bro: Hugh McDaniel M. Bro; I Waghorne S W.
Bro: I Farrel J W Pd: 20/.
Bro: Stevenson Tylar 3/.
Reed: 56/6...2., 19., 6.

The Lodge being open'd, the Comms: Appointed last Lodge Night, to prepare a Remonstrance to lay before the Rt. W. Masr: and Brethren of this Society, were Introduced in due form; and Order'd to Present the same: Bro: T: Moffat one of the Sd: Comms: was desir'd to Read it, in Audience of the Rt W: Masr. & Brethren; And, after due Attention Voted, Nemeni Con: that the Sd: Remonstrance be Ingross'd in the Book and to pass into a Law, that, for the Future, the Premium to be paid by Candidates, at their Initiation, to be Ten Pounds.

Voted, that the Sd: Comms: be Respectfully Thanked for their Care and Trouble in drawing up Sd: Remonstrance: Which was perform'd by the Rt W: Masr: & Brethren in due form.

Voted, that the Sd: Comms: be continued, and, that our W: Brothers Oxnard and Waghorne be added to them, in order to prepare a Remonstre: (as soon as posable) for the Benifit of the Bank Stock &c of this Society.
The Rt W: Masr: Hugh McDaniel, Propos’d and Nominated, Mr: Box, (Rope Mkr:) a Candidate: and to answer 40/a.
To the Rt W: Masr:; and W: Wardens, and the rest of the Members of this Lodge.

We whose Names are hereunto Annex’d being a Committee appointed by this Lodge to consider, whether it be Expedient that a greater Premium than that now Stipulated by a Quandam Vote of this Society, be required from Candidates before Admission into our Lodge.

We, after due Deliberation upon the present Circumstances of this Lodge, and Treasury thereof, do think that it is now, not only Proper, but absolutely Necessary for preserving the Honour and Dignity of Masonry in General, and advancing the Interest of this Lodge in particular: That the Sum paid by Novices before Initiation be Augmented, and that the said Augmentation when concurr’d to, & agreed on, may presently have the Sanction of a Law hence-forward.

We Your Said Committee are perswaded, that most of the Reasons which prevailed for then establishing the Inaugurating Fee at the present Rate, do not now Subsist; and consequently cannot be employ’d as Arguments against our Judgment, and Opinion, to abrogate, or alter that Decree. As that was a Resolution of this Lodge when in its Infant-state, and scarcely a sufficient Number to form One perfectly, much less to Maintain it with Spirit: We regard it only as a Result of Necessity, and good Policy, whereby the Society might be Encreased to a proper Number.

We Your Committee are convinced that if the Sum paid by Candidates was fixed at Ten Pounds, it would not prevent any Man of merit from making Application: on the Contrary—would Invite, and induce Them, inasmuch as it would discourage those of mean Spirits, and narrow, or Incumber’d Fortunes from Soliciting to Enter with Us: both which are Inconveniences which We cannot carefully enough avaoid, or provide against: because We apprehend the First to be a Disparagement to, and Prostitution of Our Honour; And the Latter are often a heavy Charge, and Burthen, in a General and Particular Respect.

We Your Committee observe that at Some Admissions, There has little or not part of the Money (after defraying incumbent Expenses) been applied towards the increasing of Our Publick Bank Stock—nay! that at Times, there has been Occasion Voluntarily to Contribute for discharging the Deficiency, or else Vote the Same.
out of the Treasury: by both which pernicious Practices, that Fund, which should be encouraged, & enereas'd by all honest Methods, & Means—is Lessen'd, & and the Noble Ends, & Purposes, for which it was destin'd, & appropriated—are frustrated, and rendered abortive.

Wherefore, We Your Committee move for Concurrence with Us in Opinion, whereby the General, & Particular Interest: & Honour of Our Society may be advanced: and by which Men of Eminence may be encouraged; and those of base Spirits, & embarras'd Fortunes may be discouraged to Associate with Us—And by which our Fund, which ought to be inviably sacred towards the Relief of Indigent & Distress'd Masons, their Wives, & Children—may be preserv'd and Enearas'd.

We Your Committee think there are Further Means, whereby all these Advantages might be further enlarged, and Secured, which We heartily wish.

''Barbados, June 24th, 1740.

This being the Feast of St. John the Baptist, the Master and Brethren of the St. Michael’s Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, in a grand Procession, went to St. Michael’s Church in Bridge Town, to pay their Devotions, when they heard a most excellent Sermon suitable to the Occasion, preached by their Reverend Brother Huxley, Rector of St. Michael’s, the Service of the Day being perform’d by their Reverend Brother Rofe, Rector of St. Thomas’s.

* * * * * * * * * * *

After Sermon the Master and Brethren, with the other Gentlemen attendant on His Excellency in the Procession, proceeded from Church, in the same order as above to the Lodge House, where an elegant Entertainment was prepared for them, and the Ladies the Sitters: and in the Evening, they conducted the Ladies to the Assembly Room, where they gave a Ball to the Sitters, and other Ladies and Gentlemen, to whom Tickets had been given for that purpose.

The whole was conducted with great Order, and Decency, and gave great Satisfaction to every Body. As the like was never seen before in this Part of the World, the Town was crowded with People from all Parts of the Island to see the Solemnity.''

The Boston Post Boy has the following interesting item of News from London:

"London, March 20. Yesterday the antient and honourable Society of Free and Accepted Masons had their grand annual Feast at Haberdashers-Hall. The Conclave was very grand, (more Noblemen and Gentlemen attending than has been known for many Years) the Entertainment in the most elegant Taste, mung'd with the nicest Decorum, and the Evening spent as became the Brothers of that Society.

Yesterday some Mock Free-Masons march'd thro' Pall-Mall and the Strand, as far as Temple-bar, in Procession; first went Fellows on Jack-Asses, with Cows Horns in their Hands, then a Kettle-Drummer on a Jack-Ass, having two Butter-Firkins for Kettle-Drums; then followed two Carts drawn by Jack-Asses, having in them the Stewards, with several Badges of the Order; then came a Mourning-Coach, drawn by six Horfes, each of a different Colour and Size, in which were the Grand-Maftcr and Wardens, the whole attended by a vaft Mob; they ftaid without Temple-bar till the Mafons came by, and paid their Compliments to them, who return'd the fame with an agreeable Humour, which possibly disappointed the Contriver of this Mock-Scene, whose Misfortune is, that tho' he has some Wit, his subjects are generally fo ill-chosen, that, he lofes by it as many Friends, as other People, of more Judgment, gain.''

It has been stated by several Masonic historians that St. John's Lodge No. 117 was Chartered for Norfolk, Virginia, by the Grand Lodge of Scotland on this date.

I have been unable to find proof of this statement. Neither the Lodge at Norfolk nor any other Lodge in America warranted from Scotland prior to St. Andrew's Lodge in Boston (1756) is to be found in the Official List of Lodges Removed from the Roll, published with the 1904 edition of the Constitutions and Laws of the Grand Lodge of Scotland (pgs. 198-207); nor in the Edinburgh edition of the Pocket Companion of 1761, 1763, or 1765. Brother Dove says that on the Scottish Register it is given as No.
111, Constituted in 1741. I can find it on the Scottish lists only as No. 117, Instituted 1763.

The Boston Evening Post publishes an interesting article relative to the mock Masons in London, as follows:

March 28, By the Right Worshipful the Grand Master, Grand Officers, Stewards and Brethren of the SCALD MISERABLE MASON.

MANIFESTO.

WHEREAS it hath been maliciously and impudently insinuated that Our Procession of the 19th Instant, was intended as an unkind and ungenerous Reflection on the Cavalcade of Our younger Brethren the Free Masons. Let this satisfy the Public, that We had no such Intention, bearing always the greatest brotherly Love and Friendship towards Our separated Brethren. But Our Reasons are.

Primo, That We are the True Original SCALD MISERABLE MASONs, as We can prove by the Records of the Ancient Lodges of RAGG-FAIR, HOCKLEY in the HOLE, St. GILES', BRICK-STREET, and the GOOSE and GRIDIRON in St. Paul's Church-Yard.

Secundo, That we were incontestibly one Body at the AERA of the Grand Mastership of Mr. AYER now Tyler, or Porter to their Grand and several other of their Lodges.
Xerfor, Because several of the Gentry, without our Privy, have crept among Us who had more Money than Wit, and more Nuisance than Good Fellowship, and have set up, themselves as a distinct Body, under the Name of FREE MASONS, in open Violation of our Ancient Constitution.

Quarto, Because We have heard it insinuated, that our Discontinuing the Annual Profession was a proof of our Non-Existence; or, at least, was a Tacit Resignation of Right of Eldership to our Younger Brothers, the FREE MASONS.

Wherefore, We have at this time thought fit, according to the known Constitutions of the above ancient Lodges, to re-assert our Procedional Ceremony.

And that All whom it may concern may Judge of the Jusitness of our Pretensions, We have annexed a Scheme of our Profession, and their Ceremonies, and submit to the Public which we most distinctly the Dignity and Solemnity of so Ancient and so Venerable a Society.

PROCESSION of the SCALD MISERABLE MASONS.

Two Suchmen, vulgarly call'd Cow's Horns, or Liveries.

An Ass, in proper Habiliments, led by two Pages, in the Liveries and Ribbons of the Stewards Colour; carrying a Pair of canvas Firkins, on which a Youth in a neat Attire, beat, with a Pair of Narro-w-Bones.

A dextrous one legged Man riding on an Ass, and playing on a Tinkling Camby, viz. a Salt Box.

The TYLER, in a long Robe or Vesture, compleatly arm'd; on his Head a Cap of Maintenance, on which was Hierogliphically depicted the mystical Emblems of the RAFT; in his Hand a Wooden Sword, riding on a Lean, Lambs, cropt Sorrel Nagg.

Three Stewards in proper Clothing, with Jewels and Waist, in a Great Cart, drawn by Three Asses, beautifully adorned with Ribbons and Cockades. A Pavilion on the first, which was led by two Pages.

Three more Stewards in a Sand Cart, drawn as before.

GRAND GARDENER, or Tyler to the Grand Lodge, in a Huge Cap of Skins, in his Hand a Truncheon; his Shoulders from three Sides ornamented with Lay-Bands, like a Hamlet Collars, riding on a fine prancing Steed, well managed in a Grain Cart.

Ragged Brethren in proper Clothing, walking according to the Ancient Constitutions, THREE, THREE, and THREE.

The Right Worshipful GRAND MASTER with his GRAND OFFICERS in a superb magnificent state Coach, drawn by Spanish Stallions, Satravtals, Bubtrails, One eye, and None-eye, all of various Colors, and bedecked with Azure Ribbons.

This Grand and Illustrious Procession, was signal'd by vast Numbers of Musical Instruments, which all together composed a deliciuable Symphony of ROUGH MUSICK.

To the Mark of the Right Worshipful

"Extract of a Letter from Vienna, dated March 20, N.S.

The Affair of the Free-Masons, it still makes a great Noise here, because of the Persons of high Rank concerned in it. By a Lift handed about here, it appears that the Lodge was composed of a young Prince of an illustrious House, two other Princes, six Counts of the greatest Families of Austria, four Generals, a Foreign Minister, well known in the learned World, and three Priests, besides others of inferior Note. Among them there were Roman Catholics, Protestants, and Lutherans, the Free-Masons admitting all Sort of Religions among them, not even excepting Mahometans; but what we most wonder at, is, to have found Priests in this Society. The latter are close confined in the Prison of the Archbishoprick, and have been interrogated several Times already, but absolutely refused to give any Eclaircissement concerning the Secret of the Fraternity: Cardinal Collonitz, our Archbishop, is charged to prosecute them. Among other Things found in the Lodge, there was a Book, in which these Words are wrote; Our Orders, the most illustrious that ever was known, is of as great Antiquity as the World itself, for Adam was the first Free-Mason, &c. Upon which it is further to be observed, that when the Guards broke the Door of the Lodge, they found a Bible on the Table, open at the first Chapter of Genesis; but as to the Report of their having a Death's Head and black Tapers, is a mere Invention of the populace, who take the Free-Masons to be Magicians."

The Boston Weekly News Letter publishes an account of the burlesque procession by the mock Masons which we reproduce as follows:
From the St. James's Evening-Poll.
LONDON, May 3.

YESTERDAY the Cavalcade of Scal'd Miserable Masons, went in Procession from the Place of Meeting thro' the Strand to Temple-Bar, and on returning back to meet the Free and Accepted Masons, they were put into Disorder near Somerset House, by the High Constable of Westminster, attended by a large Body of inferior Officers, who prefix'd Dag A--e Jack, Poney, and several others, to the Number of 10, whom they ocur'd in St. Clement's Church and Round House, for his Majesty's Service.

A Key to the Procession of the Scal'd Miserable Masons.

WHEREAS by our Manifesto of last Year, dated from our Lodge in Brick-Street, we did, in the most explicit Manner, vindicate the ancient Rights and Privileges of this Society, and by incontrovertible Arguments evince our superior Dignity and Seniority to all other Institutions, whether Grand Volgi, Gregorianis, Harlotrambians, Ubiquarians, Hicubites, Lumber-Troopers, Hungarian, or Free-Masons; yet nevertheless, a few Persons under the said Denomination, still arrogate to them the usurped Titles of Most Antient and Honourable, in open Violation of Truth and Justice,—still endeavour to impose their false Mysteries (for a Premium) on the Credulous and Unwary, under Pretence of being Part of our Brotherhood, and still are determin'd with Drums, Trumpets, gilt Chariots and other unconstitutional Finery to call a Reflection on the primitive Simplicity and decent Oeconomy of our Ancient and Annual Peregination: We think therefore proper, in Justification of Ourselves, publicly to Disclaim all Relation or Alliance whatsoever, with the said Society of Free Masons, as the same must manifestly tend to the Sacrifice of our solemn Mysteries: And further, to convince the Publick of the Candour and Openness of our Proceedings, We here present them with a Key to our Procession; and that the rather, as it consists of many Things Emblematical, Mystical, Hieroglyphical, Comical, Satirical, Political, &c.

And whereas many persuaded by the Purity of our Constitution, the nice Morality of our Brethren, and peculiar Decency of our Rites and Ceremonies, have lately forsook the gross Errors and Follies of the Free-Masonry, we now become true Scal'd Miscreants, and cannot but afford a most pleasing Satisfaction to all who have any regard to Truth and Decency, to see our Procession adorned with such Number of Protestants, and behold those, whom Vanity, but the last Year, adorn'd them into a borrowed Equipage, now condescended to become the humble Cugo of a Sand-cart: But,——Magna est Veritas, et praevalebit.
Two Tylers, or Guards

In yellow Cockades and Livries, being the Colour ordain'd by the Sword-Bearer of State. They, as youngest enter'd Apprentice, are to guard the Lodge, with a drawn Sword, from all Cowens and Eves-droppers that is Liffners, lest they should discover the incomprehensible Mysteries of Masonry.

A Grand Chorus of Instruments, viz.

Four Sackbutts, or Coss's Horns; six Hottentot Hautboys; four Tinking Cymbals, or Tea Canisters, with broken Glasses in them; four Shovels and Brushes; two Double Bals Dripping-pans; a Tenor Frying pan; a Salt-Box in De-la-sol; and a Pair of Gut Tubs.

Two Pillars, Jachin and Boaz.

After the Proportion and Workmanship of the famous ones in the Porch of Solomon's Temple. Their Height, their Thicknes, and their Capital. Adorn'd with Lilly-work, Net-work, and Pomegranet-work.

Three pair of Stewards.

With their Attendants, in Red Ribands, being their Colour, in three Gut-Carts drawn by three Asses each, their Aprons being lined with Red Six, their Jewels pendant to Red Ribands, and their Heads properly adorned with emblematical Caps.

The true Original Mason's Lodge.

Upon which poor old Hyram made all his enter'd Prentices.

The entered 'Prentices Token,

That is to lay, the Manner in which the Novices, or those lately admitted, shake each other by the Hand; and it is by putting the Ball of the Thumb of the Right Hand (for we never do any Act of Masonry with the Left,) upon the Knuckle of the third Joint of the first Finger of the Brother's Right Hand, squeezing it gently.

Ragged entered 'Prentices.

Properly cloathed, giving the above Token, and the Word, which is Jachin.

Three great Lights.

Mystically resembling the Sun and Moon, and the Master Mason.

The Sun; To Rule the Day. Hieroglyphical.
The Moon; To Rule the Night. Emblematical.
A Master Mason, To Rule his Lodge. Political.

The Pelham List says 'pass'd F.C.' But it is wrong. McKenzie was pass'd July 22, 1747.
O.R.

The few errors which from time to time we find in the Pelham List, in the Beteilhe Manuscript, in the Barons Letter, and in the records prove their general correctness. In them there are no more errors than the average secretary or copyist makes in his work. The fact also that names are often differently spelled, although idem sonans, is a further indication that much of Pelham's information was obtained from other sources than the books now in our possession. The agreement, however, between the original Proceedings which we have and the Pelham List from January 10, 1738/9 to August 28, 1751, is the best possible evidence of the correctness of the List for the period from July 30, 1733, to November 8, 1738, a period for which we have no original records except now and then a document such as the petition of July 30, 1733, the Beteilhe Manuscript, and others cited supra. In this connection I want to note again the surprisingly accurate agreement between the Pelham List, the Betelhe Manuscript, and the Barons Letter for the periods when they overlap. All of these facts and others noted now and then supra give remarkable proof that we may rely upon the Pelham List except for such an occasional error as might be made by an accurate scrivener. As a modern instance of just such errors creeping in let me cite instances in my article on The Establishment and Early Days of Masonry in America, found in 1914 Mass. 243 to 288, and in The Builder for the months of May, August and October, 1915, q.v. I gave the date of Henry Price's commission as April 2, 1733, which should of course have been April 13, 1733. I spoke of the Provincial Grand Lodge of New South Wales in June, 1727. It should of course have been South Wales. I gave the date of the Deputation to Phillips as Provincial Grand Master for Nova Scotia as 1740 when it should have been 1738. I gave the date of the Portsmouth petition as February 9, 1735/6, instead of February 5; and the establishment of the Second Lodge in Boston February 17, instead of February 15, 1750. I have gone over this address dozens of times, yet some such errors may escape me and a number of other Brethren who have kindly assisted me by verifying citations, etc.

Henry Price himself made a similar error on one occasion by stating that his extension of authority over all North America was in 1735 instead of 1734.

In this connection it is interesting again to note the ostrich-like perspicacity with which some Pennsylvania Masonic historians view facts, and the utterly reckless way in which they make statements and claims. In a volume written by Brother Sachse, the Librarian of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, and compiled at the request of the Grand Master (1906), the claim is made that this record book of Tun Tavern Lodge is "the oldest American Masonic minute book known."

Benjamin Franklin as a Free Mason, 85.

It has, however, been common knowledge for many years that the original minute books of the Masters' Lodge in Boston, beginning December 22, 1738; of the First Lodge in Boston, beginning December 27, 1738, and of the First Lodge in Portsmouth, N.H., beginning October 31, 1739, all of which I have personally examined, are in their proper custody and available for inspection.

Rev. Brother Brockwell’s sermon entitled "Brotherly Love Recommended" was printed and published in Boston immediately by John Draper in Newbury Street. An original copy thereof is in the archives of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts containing the vote of thanks to the preacher passed by the Grand Lodge. A burlesque in doggerel of the procession of the Grand Lodge on this day was printed and circulated in 1750 and reprinted in 1795. 1749/50, March 13, Philadelphia.
William Allen exhibited a patent signed by Lord Byron, the Grand Master of England, appointing him Provincial Grand Master for Pennsylvania.
This being from the fountain head and from an authority superior even to Oxnard’s, was at once recognized by Franklin and his associates of the then existing Provincial Grand Lodge. Franklin became Deputy Grand Master. Those who were his officers under Oxnard’s Deputation all remained in line but like himself demoted one station. Word of this and some similar matters having come to Boston the Brethren there, after long and careful consideration, prepared a remonstrance on October 7, 1751 to the Grand Master of England.

1914 Mass. 266. Facsimile.

The four Lodges in Boston very properly pointed out that Oxnard’s Commission granted by Lord Ward, Grand Master of England, September 23, 1743, q.v., made him "Provincial Grand Master of North America." (1 Mass. 8.) and that, therefore, Deputations for the Provinces here should issue from him in the future as they had in the past. When Franklin visited the Grand Lodge at London on November 17, 1760, he was recognized as "Provincial Grand Master of Philadelphia" which is at least a recognition of Oxnard's Commission to him.

From that day to this, Massachusetts has never been without an active Provincial or Independent Grand Lodge

Temple in Boston.

CONCLUSION.

For the statements of fact hereinbefore contained, the original sources of information have been examined and little probative value has been given to the text of any author later than Preston (1772) except only where he has actually quoted the language of the authority upon which his statement has been made. I have assumed the correctness of the actual quotations in Mackey’s and McClenachan’s Histories of Freemasonry in South Carolina and in New York, respectively, in Sachse’s Benjamin Franklin as a Freemason and Old Masonic Lodges of Pennsylvania, and in a few other works cited.

I confess to bias in favor of the position of Massachusetts, but have nevertheless tried to be accurate and fair toward all other jurisdictions and to view all matters dispassionately and judicially. The result is but to confirm the premiership of Massachusetts in the Masonic history of the Western Hemisphere.

In the following respects, Massachusetts is the Senior Masonic Jurisdiction of America:

1. The first Freemason definitely known to be in the Western Hemisphere was Governor Jonathan Belcher of Massachusetts Bay Colony, in 1705.

2. The earliest use in America, in writing or in print, of the word "Freemason," so far as now known, was in the Boston News Letter for January 5, 1718/9.

3. The first Lodge meetings in America of which we may speak with any degree of definiteness were held in King’s Chapel, Boston, in 1720.

4. The first known American newspaper account relating to Freemasonry was published in Boston, May 25, 1727.

5. The first known Warrant, Deputation, Commission, or other authority, issuing from the Grand Lodge of England or its Grand Master (or from any other Masonic organization or officer, for that matter) to be exercised in America was that (April 13, 1733) by virtue of which Henry Price founded a Provincial Grand Lodge in Boston, July 30, 1733.
6. The first particular Lodge in America to be duly constituted was the First Lodge in Boston, July 30, 1733.

7. The first Lodge in America to be registered by the Grand Lodge of England in the official list of Lodges was the First Lodge in Boston.

8. The first Masonic officer in the Western World to have jurisdiction over the whole of North America was Henry Price, whose authority was extended thus broadly in August, 1734.

9. The first exercise by any Masonic authority in America of the right to grant provincial Masonic powers was the appointment of Benjamin Franklin as "Provincial Grand Master of the Province of Pennsylvania," February 21, 1734/5, by Henry Price, "Grand Master of His Majesty's Dominions in North America."

10. The first independent Grand Lodge in America was Massachusetts Grand Lodge, which organized and declared its independence on March 8, 1777.

1870 Mass. 27.
1915 Mass. 280-282.
See also 1877 Mass. 1 to 148, et cit.

Prior to 1733, there had been meetings of Brethren in Boston, Philadelphia, and elsewhere in the Colonies. Before 1721, such meetings had been regular. After 1721 they were neither regular nor duly-constituted until that of July 30, 1733. Therefore, in studying organized, duly-constituted Freemasonry in America, it more than ever seems certain that Henry Price was, as he said himself, the Founder of Duly Constituted Masonry in America and that the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts is the first among her equals of the Western Hemisphere.

Note. Proofs of this address were submitted in November, 1916, to every Grand Secretary in the Western Hemisphere and in the English-speaking world elsewhere. Copies were also sent to those who were known to the writer, in England and North America, to be Masonic historians, about two hundred in all. Requests were made in each case for suggestions, criticisms, or additions. No one has called attention to a single additional item. During the four months which have elapsed before publication, many helpful suggestions have been received. The author has made quite a number of changes in consequence thereof and hereby extends his acknowledgment and thanks.—M. M. J.
